EthnicityEthnic information was provided by: Parent Pupil

Our ethnic background describes how we think of ourselves. This may be based on many things, including, for example, our skin colour, language, culture and ancestry or family history. Ethnic background is not the same as nationality or country of birth. The Information Commissioner recommends that young people aged 11 years old or above have the opportunity to decide their own ethnic identity. Parents, or those with parental responsibility, are asked to support or advise those children aged over 11 in making this decision wherever necessary.

7 What we do with the information you have provided on the S11 form (Data Protection)

Schools hold information on pupils and parents in order to run the education system, (i.e. to support the pupil's teaching and learning, to monitor and report on their progress, to provide appropriate pastoral care, and to assess how well the school as a whole is doing *) and in doing so have to follow the Data Protection Act 1998. This means, among other things that the data held must only be used for specific purposes allowed by law.

From time to time the school is required to pass on some of this data to the Local Authority (LA), to another school to which the pupil is transferring, to the Department for Education (DfE), Careers South West, Department of Health (DH), Clinical Commissioning Groups (CCGs) and Local Area Teams (LATs), the Office for Standards in Education (Ofsted), Education Funding Agency (EFA), Skills Funding Agency (SFA), Youth Offending Teams and other partnership organisations working with Schools to provide a service to pupils such as Virgin Care, and to Ofqual who regulates qualifications and assessments and the Standards and Testing Agency who develop national curriculum tests.

Pupils have certain rights under the Data Protection Act, including a general right of access to personal data held on them, with parents exercising this right on their behalf if they are too young to do so themselves. If you wish to access the personal data held about your child, then please contact the relevant organisation in writing:

What is Parental Responsibility?

Parental responsibility means assuming all the rights, duties, powers, responsibilities and authority that a parent of a child has by law. A person with parental responsibility for a child has the right to make important decisions about their upbringing, for example,

- Decisions about where they live
- Whether the child should receive medical treatment
- What religion they should follow
- Which school they should attend

Who has Parental Responsibility?

Mothers and married fathers automatically have parental responsibility and will not lose it if they later get divorced. Unmarried fathers do not automatically have parental responsibility. An unmarried father can get parental responsibility by:

- Registering the birth jointly with the mother
- Through a 'parental responsibility agreement' between him and the child's mother
- As the result of a court order

People other than a child's natural parents can acquire parental responsibility through;

- Being granted a residence order or a child arrangement order (from 2014)
- Being appointed a guardian
- Being named in an emergency protection order (although parental responsibility in such a case is limited to taking reasonable steps to safeguard or promote the child's welfare)
- Adopting a child

In addition, a Local Authority can acquire parental responsibility if it is named in the care order for a child

Everyone who is a parent, whether they are a resident or non-resident parent, has the same right to participate in decisions about a child's education and receive information about the child.

School staff must treat all parents equally, unless there is a court order limiting an individual's exercise of parental responsibility. Individuals who have parental responsibility for, or care of, a child have the same rights as natural parents, for example:

To receive information e.g. pupil reports

To participate in activities e.g. vote in elections for parent governors

To be asked to give consent e.g. to the child taking part in school trips

To be informed about meetings involving the child, e.g. a governors' meeting on the child's exclusion

We have received the following advice from the County Solicitor's office concerning pupil surnames:

Where only one person holds parental responsibility for a child, he or she has the legal right to effect a change of the child's surname without any permission or consent.

Where more than one person has parental responsibility for a child, the surname of a child can only be changed with the consent or agreement of all those having parental responsibility for a child.

Where two or more people have parental responsibility for a child and there is in force either a residence or care order, then one of those people can only lawfully cause a change of the child's surname if all other people with parental responsibility consent in writing.

In any other situation it is necessary for the person seeking to change a child's surname to obtain an appropriate order from a court.
